Effective Date: December 2024.

Thank you for using our Chrome Extension ("the Extension"). Your privacy is very important to us. This Privacy Policy outlines what data is collected, how it is used, and how we protect your information.

1. Information We Collect

Our Extension does not collect any personal information from you. We prioritize your privacy and strive to keep the data we use minimal and solely for functional purposes.

a. Most Visited Sites

To enhance your experience, the Extension identifies your most visited websites. This information is only used locally within the Extension to display your frequently visited sites conveniently in each new tab. We do not transmit, store, or share this information with any external servers or third parties.

b. Local Storage Data

The Extension stores specific information locally on your device. This includes:

- Quotes: A collection of quotes downloaded from our server is saved in your local storage to provide new quotes each time you open a new tab.
- Support and About Text: Additional text files (such as "About" or "Support" information) may also be saved to local storage. This ensures that the Extension provides you with necessary and up-to-date information even when offline.

Local storage data is used only to enhance the Extension's performance and is not shared or used for tracking purposes.
